Defense Attorney Hints Sheppard May Not Testify

CLEVELAND (AP)—Samuel H. Sheppard's lawyer hinted today that the former osteopath may not take the witness stand at his murder trial, or even offer any evidence.

Sheppard, 42, is being retried by a U.S. Supreme Court mandate after serving nine years in prison for the 1954 slaying of his first wife, Marilyn.

Crew Abandons Burning Ship

Seven Crewmen Listed Missing

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—Flames raged out of control through an oil and gasoline-laden tanker 60 miles southwest of here today, forcing the crew to abandon ship. The Coast Guard said seven of the 40 crewmen are missing.

The Gulf Stag, a 572-foot vessel, was settling and believed sinking at mid-morning.

Another tanker, the Atlantic Prestige, picked up the Gulf Stag's captain and many of the crewmen.

The Gulf Stag's master, whose name was not available, said he believed all his crewmen had abandoned ship. He said seven crewmen were missing.

Coast Guard planes, helicopters and cutters converged on the scene after the Gulf Stag sent out an SOS, reporting a fire blazing fiercely in its engine room and pump room.

Rescue ships were forced to keep their distance by the danger of an explosion. The Gulf Stag reportedly carried 163,000 barrels of gasoline and intermediates.

3 Children Die in Fire

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Clinton Township authorities today investigated the cause of a fire which killed three small children trapped in an upstairs bedroom.

Killed in the fire just outside Tiffin Sunday were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Schmucker. The youngsters were Chuck 3, Tracy, 2, and Donna, 1.

Firemen said the fire apparently started under a stairway where the furnace was located. The family was asleep upstairs in the two-story frame house.

Schmucker helped his wife, Ann, 25, down the stairway, then tried to return for the children.

Escape of 'Double Spy' Creates Furor in Britain

LONDON (AP)—A political storm descended on Prime Minister Harold Wilson today over the escape of double agent George Blake, sprung Saturday night from a London jail where he was serving the longest sentence in modern English history.

Scotland Yard kept special watch on eight Communist ships at the London docks and on Communist embassies and Communist-front institutions. But detectives speculated that Blake, 44, had been spirited out of Britain within hours of his escape from Wormwood Scrubs Prison.

Conservative legislators served notice they will seek to censure the government for failing to keep Blake under closer wraps. Sentenced in 1961 to 42 years as the most dangerous spy of the postwar years, he was kept without special security in a jail from which eight ago, Sheppard was on the witness stand for three days.

When the first prospective juror was summoned at the opening of the trial today, defense Attorney F. Lee Bailey asked:

"If the defendant did not testify would you feel that was any indication that he had something to hide?"

When the prospective juror Alan Severs, replied in the negative, Bailey asked:

"If at the end of the state's case, the defense says nothing and presents nothing would this indicate to you that he had something to hide?"

"No," replied Severs, 38, a bachelor who works for a firm manufacturing truck equipment.

Severs, a tall, dark-haired man with a bald spot in back, was temporarily seated as a juror by Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty, despite Bailey objection that the panel member had been subjected to "general exposure" to the case through news media.

Sheppard came to the second-floor courtroom shortly before 9 a.m. looking relaxed. He was hatless, coatless and nattily dressed in a suit of gun-metal gray.

The defense had sought in vain to have his trial transferred out of Cleveland. However, Talty directed that the case proceed to the extent of determining whether an impartial jury can be selected here.

A panel of 15 women and nine men was summoned for examination. Sheppard half rose and bowed in their direction when Talty introduced him along with the opposing lawyers.

The prospects heard a reading of the second-degree murder indictment which charges that on July 4, 1954 Sheppard, then a practicing osteopath, "unlawfully, purposely and maliciously killed Marilyn Sheppard."

The indictment does not include the element of premeditation as it did in the first trial, when Sheppard could have been sentenced to the electric chair. The defendant was convicted by the original jury of second-degree murder and under Supreme Court ruling's any further first-degree prosecution was outlawed.

By chance, Severs, the first prospect to be examined, once worked for the late Thomas Reese, who was the father of Marilyn Sheppard.

No special courtroom arrangements were allowed for.

Crash Attempt At Berlin Wall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BERLIN (AP)—Two East Germans failed today in an attempt to ram a truck through East German barriers opposite the Berlin wall's Checkpoint Charlie.

The truck crashed through one barrier but came to a halt before reaching the second and last one, West Berlin police said.

Border guards led two young men in civilian clothes away. There was no shooting.

escapes already had been made this year.

Blake vanished from the jail, which is 10 minutes drive from London airport, soon after the 5 p.m. roll call which under prison routine started a 24-hour period in which prisoners were free to visit each other in their unlocked cells. Blake broke the bars of a window on a second-story landing, apparently with some tool which has not been traced, dropped into an exercise yard and climbed a rope ladder over the 20-foot prison wall.

Police believe a car was waiting by the wall for him.

Blake's unprecedented sentence was for nine years of spying for the Soviet Union while he was employed by the British Foreign Office. His trial was secret, but it was reported that his spying resulted in the death or disappearance of at least 40 Western agents in Eastern Europe and the Middle East.

U.S. Seeking Agreement on POW Exchange

MANILA (AP)—The United States is asking the Manila summit conference to make a bid for some agreement to swap prisoners with Communist North Viet Nam, it was learned today.

The United States wants to include such a bid in the meeting's final statement, to be signed at the windup Tuesday. Officials in Washington believe North Viet Nam is holding more than 100 Americans.

North Viet Nam has spruned all attempts to talk about the American pilots it holds, even through a third party.

The International Red Cross has tried without success to get Hanoi to allow Red Cross representatives to see the Americans held prisoner in the North.

Although a hard liner toward negotiations with North Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam has shown a sympathetic attitude toward possible exchanges to free American fliers from Red captivity. The Saigon government has custody of most North Vietnamese captured in the ground fighting.

The only North Vietnamese the United States is known to hold are 19 sailors picked up in international waters after their PT boats were sunk in action.

Agreement by the North Vietnamese to negotiate on the question of war prisoners could be a wedge for wider talks on the Viet Nam war itself.

Parents Voice Grief, Anger After Disaster

ABERFAN, Wales (AP)—Shouting "They killed our children!" bereaved parents brought uproar today to an inquest for young victims of the coal slag slide that buried Aberfan's village school.

A man whose wife and two sons were killed in Friday's "black glacier" told the coroner to record a verdict of "buried alive by the National Coal Board."

The board, which runs Britain's state-owned mines, has been accused of neglect in allowing the giant slag heap to grow to the point where it collapsed.

To date, 143 bodies have been recovered, all but 17 of them children.

Sixty parents were present at the inquest for the first 34 victims identified. In the uproar, women called out: "They killed our children."

Moscow, Peking Trade Epithets

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union accused Red China today of practicing "an absurd barracks-style communism," and Peking described the Soviet leadership as "a gang of renegades."

An article in the Soviet Communist party paper Pravda attacked Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung's "cultural revolution."

It asserted real communism has nothing to do with the type of activities undertaken in China's purge, which it described as: "The destruction of monuments of ancient civilization, the destruction of masterpieces of world culture, the manhandling of workers and progressive intellectuals, the defamation of Communist party organizations, the implantation of the Mao Tse-tung personality cult."

The Chinese attack against the Soviet Union was contained in an article in the Peking People's Daily which criticized the U.S.S.R. for expelling Chinese students.

Pumpkin Tidbits

There is a lot in heredity. Pumpkin Pie winners at the Pumpkin Show have proved this. Mrs. Charles Winner won third place in the Special 60th Anniversary Pumpkin Pie Contest for people over 60. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Paul Knece, was grand champion for 1966 and her great granddaughter, Terry Knece, came in second in the Bake-a-Pumpkin Pie contest in Friday's teen-age division.

Martha Purcell, 156 W. Franklin, can tell a yarn that has her listeners in tears one moment and laughing the next about her experience as a pumpkin pie contestant.

She forgot to put salt in her crust in one pie. Satisfied with nothing short of perfection she baked another. About to leave for the contest with it she realized she had not put the eggs in because there they were on her work table.

She set about to make yet another pie. This time she had not made quite enough filling to fill the crust. She just dumped leftover pumpkin and a little left-over batter into the crust, baked it, took it to the contest and won third place.

She then had a bout with her conscience. If the pie were sold at auction it might not be as good as it looked. She hustled up to the contest headquarters and offered to buy back her own pie. She was assured that the pie was excellent. Judges sent her scampering home for the recipe.

And to make it a story with a very happy ending, Mrs. Purcell's son stopped by, asked for a piece of pie and Martha cut the eggless reject. She was told: "Mom, this is the best pie you ever baked."

Family Dies In Fiery Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An automobile 2,000 miles from home base crossed into Ohio on U.S. 40 early Sunday and minutes later became involved in a fiery wreck that took seven lives.

The toll from that smashup accounted for a big portion of an otherwise unusually low traffic death count for the state.

At least 32 persons were killed, but this was the smallest figure in the past six weekends.

Four members of a Lucerne Valley, Calif., family and another passenger in their east-bound car were victims of the U.S. 40 crash about nine miles from the Indiana border. So were two Ohioans in an auto that collided with the California vehicle at an intersection near Gettysburg in Preble County.

The California victims apparently burned to death after their auto caught fire. West Manchester firemen worked 90 minutes to extinguish the fire, and the car had to be cut off to free the bodies. One occupant of the car escaped death, suffering only minor injuries.

Killed were Roger H. Rideout, 40; his wife, La Donna, 38; their daughters, Rotina Marie, 9 and Dawn Ann, 7, and Leon Blankenship, about 30, also of Lucerne Valley. David Hart, 18, of the same community, was the survivor.

Charles Kirby, 38, of Dayton, driver of the other car, which the Highway Patrol said had pulled out onto Route 40 from a county road, and his passenger, Hubert Bach, 47, of New Paris, also perished. Two Richmond, Ind., men in that auto, Randall Parker, 53, and Sammy Day, 20, were injured.

Several minutes after the crash another auto ran into the wreckage but its occupants were unhurt.

The weekend period, starting at 6 p.m. Friday, moved into Saturday before the first deaths were registered but 13 were reported Saturday and the rest Sunday.

There were double-fatality accidents in Stark and Butler counties Saturday. Three motorcyclists and three pedestrians were among other victims.

Deaths reported since Saturday noon besides the Preble County tragedy:

More Troops Said Needed In Viet Nam

MANILA (AP)—The U.S. commander in Viet Nam told the Manila summit conference today the war is "far from over" and he will need more troops in the days ahead, but President Johnson said a display of unity by the allies here should provide new fuel for the cause of peace.

"Let the bullies of the world know that when they do attack their neighbors, the friends of their neighbors will be there to resist," the President said in this first day of meetings among the leaders of nations fighting Communists in Viet Nam.

Johnson was the last speaker of the day. His remarks came after Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, reported to the leaders that allied forces are increasing effective in battling the Communists.

Westmoreland said troop morale was high.

"The troops are the finest ever fielded; they understand the conflict and appreciate their complex role as both fighters and builders."

The session in which Westmoreland and the President spoke was closed to the public, but their remarks were given to newsmen later by U.S. spokesmen.

Johnson summed up what he portrayed as the four main principles which had stood out in the talks of those leaders who spoke before him. He listed them as:

The determination of all that aggression must fail.

Commitment to the job of pacification.

"Our commitment to and our awareness of regional cooperation" among Asian countries.

The hope for reconciliation and a peaceful settlement.

Before Johnson spoke, Westmoreland was asked by one of the conferees if he would need more troops in Viet Nam. He replied that he would. But a top military informant explained later this need is due, at least in part, to plans to put increasing emphasis on clearing and holding areas of South Viet Nam for pacification and reconstruction.

A stepup in what President Johnson calls this "other war" to improve the living conditions of the South Vietnamese people and develop loyalty to the Saigon government is said to be a major concern of the seven allied governments meeting in Manila.

Allied forces in South Viet Nam now total slightly more than one million men under arms, according to officials in Saigon, while the Communist armed strength is estimated at 284,000.

The allied force includes 705,000 South Vietnamese, 331,000 Americans, 45,000 South Koreans, 4,500 Australians, 2,000 Filipinos, 150 New Zealanders and 150 from Thailand.

The seven government chiefs ended their first day's meeting shortly after 6 p.m. (6 a.m. EDT). They had been working, starting with a public session, since 9 a.m.

Westmoreland said the ratio of men killed in battle is becoming more favorable to the allies, the number of enemy soldiers surrendering the battle has increased, the number of enemy casualties left on the battle field rather than carried off is rising, and the stream of refugees choosing government security over Viet Cong domination continues to grow.

He added that the flow of information about the enemy from the people in the countryside increases weekly.

Westmoreland warned, however, that Viet Cong assassination and terror is continuing.

He said in the last six weeks the Viet Cong had assassinated 33 government officials or civilians cooperating with the government. He said there had been 51 kidnappings and 122 other acts of terrorism.

"All of the military power which we can bring to bear can achieve only one thing: A state of security in which the people of South Viet Nam can develop their institutions of government, their natural resources and their potentials for production," Westmoreland said.

Weather Hampers U.S. Air Strikes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Small-scale fighting flared Monday in scattered sections of South Viet Nam, but the war for the most part continued in a lull. Thunderstorms of the northeast monsoon again cut heavily into U.S. air blows against North Viet Nam.

Although a general upsurge in Communist military activity and terrorism failed to develop to coincide with the opening of the Manila summit conference, a civilian bus hit a Viet Cong mine 22 miles north of Hue, killing 15 Vietnamese and injuring 20.

The Viet Cong made mortar attacks on four South Vietnamese outposts in the central highlands Sunday and two on American positions in the northern provinces today.

In one shelling, the Reds fired 30 to 40 mortar rounds against the command post of the U.S. 7th Marine Regiment about two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The Leathernecks replied with counter-mortar fire, and a 7th Fleet destroyer fired 100 rounds of five-inch shells. Marine casualties were reported light; results of the counterfire were not announced.

A unit of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade received 15 rounds of Communist mortar fire eight miles northwest of Da Nang airfield. A U.S. spokesman said the paratroopers had light casualties.

The President's demonstration cities program — designed to show what an all-fronts attack on poverty can do — won late approval at $1.26 billion, less than half what he asked.

Lawmakers voted each major political party a potential $30-million kitty for the 1968 presidential election campaign. The program would permit taxpayers to divert $1 from their income tax to the campaign.

The adding machines are still clacking away trying to figure out how much Congress went over or under Johnson's recommendations in specific areas.

The two-year appropriation total of $283 billion stands as a record, with this year's $144 billion a close second to the one-year record of $147 billion set in 1942, the first full year of World War II.

After the Medicare and voting rights blockbusters of 1965, this second session of the 89th Congress seemed a step slower. And there was greater preoccupation with talking about the war in Viet Nam.

The move was part of a campaign which began this summer to get higher wages for laborers who gather the valleys fruit and vegetable crops.

The demonstrators say they are being paid wages ranging from 40 cents to $1 an hour.

They are campaigning for a state minimum wage law of $1.25 an hour. Texas has no minimum wage law.

After a few minutes on the bridge, the demonstrators began letting cars carrying tourists through their lines.

Mexican police once escorted some pedestrians to the middle of the bridge, but returned to the Mexican side when the demonstrators would not part to let them through.

Death Toll Grows In Steamer Crash

MANILA (AP)—Philippine navy frogmen dived into Manila Bay again and again today looking for bodies from the coastal steamer Pioneer Leyte which collided with an American freighter.

With 50 bodies recovered and the divers searching the wreck more than 50 feet below the surface, rescue authorities announced there are 172 known survivors and 33 persons still missing.

The collision occurred early Sunday in a well-marked navigational area during a calm and generally clear night. The 778-ton Philippine vessel sank immediately. The 7,000-ton seagoing freighter Golden State received only a six-foot rip in her side.

Witnesses said the single-engine craft was owned by Lane Aviation, Inc.

They said the pilot, whose name was not immediately learned, was trapped briefly in the wreckage. He was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital for treatment of burns not believed to be serious.

LBJ Expected To Sign All Congress Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is expected to sign into law virtually all the legislation passed in the rush to adjournment by Congress.

Much of it is for his "Great Society" program — and some is greater than he asked.

Some key programs could be signed by Johnson even before he returns to the United States Nov. 2 from his Pacific-Asian tour.

The lengthy second session of the 89th Congress ended late Saturday afternoon after two years of record spending and government involvement in new fields.

The final outpouring of legislation included a $6.1-billion elementary and secondary school aid bill for the next two years that is a whopping $1.7 billion above what Johnson asked.

The President's demonstration cities program — designed to show what an all-fronts attack on poverty can do — won late approval at $1.26 billion, less than half what he asked.

There is a lot in heredity. Pumpkin Pie winners at the Pumpkin Show have proved this. Mrs. Charles Winner won third place in the Special 60th Anniversary Pumpkin Pie Contest for people over 60. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Paul Kneese, was grand champion for 1966 and her great granddaughter, Terry Kneese, came in second in the Bake-a-Pumpkin Pie contest in Friday's teen-age division.

Martha Purcell, 156 W. Franklin, can tell a yarn that has her listeners in tears one moment and laughing the next about her experience as a pumpkin pie contestant.

She forgot to put salt in her crust in one pie. Satisfied with nothing short of perfection she baked another. About to leave for the contest with it she realized she had not put the eggs in because there they were on her work table.

She set about to make yet another pie. This time she had not made quite enough filling to fill the crust. She just dumped leftover pumpkin and a little left-over batter into the crust, baked it, took it to the contest and won third place.

She then had a bout with her conscience. If the pie were sold at auction it might not be as good as it looked. She hustled up to the contest headquarters and offered to buy back her own pie. She was assured that the pie was excellent. Judges sent her scampering home for the recipe.

And to make it a story with a very happy ending, Mrs. Purcell's son stopped by, asked for a piece of pie and Martha cut the eggless reject. She was told: "Mom, this is the best pie you ever baked."

Tarzan and Jane Found in Box In Phone Booth

NEW YORK (AP)—Tarzan and Jane, 18-month-old chimpanzees who were abducted early Saturday from Brooklyn's Prospect Park zoo, were found today—in a telephone booth.

An anonymous tip to police sent them to Myrtle and Franklin Avenues. They opened the door of the booth and there were the chimps, huddled in a cardboard carton.

Both zoo customers and officials missed the 2½-foot tall chimps so much that Sunday the keepers started a Tarzan and Jane ransom fund to be turned over to anyone producing them—no questions asked.

More Troops Said Needed In Viet Nam

MANILA (AP)—The U.S. commander in Viet Nam told the Manila summit conference today the war is "far from over" and he will need more troops in the days ahead, but President Johnson said a display of unity by the allies here should provide new fuel for the cause of peace.

"Let the bullies of the world know that when they do attack their neighbors, the friends of their neighbors will be there to resist," the President said in this first day of meetings among the leaders of nations fighting Communists in Viet Nam.

Johnson was the last speaker of the day. His remarks came after Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, reported to the leaders that allied forces are increasing effective in battling the Communists.

Westmoreland said troop morale was high.

"The troops are the finest ever fielded; they understand the conflict and appreciate their complex role as both fighters and builders."

The session in which Westmoreland and the President spoke was closed to the public, but their remarks were given to newsmen later by U.S. spokesmen.

Johnson summed up what he portrayed as the four main principles which had stood out in the talks of those leaders who spoke before him. He listed them as:

"The determination of all that aggression must fail."

"Commitment to the job of pacification."

"Our commitment to and our awareness of regional cooperation" among Asian countries.

The hope for reconciliation and a peaceful settlement.

Before Johnson spoke, Westmoreland was asked by one of the conferees if he would need more troops in Viet Nam. He replied that he would. But a top military informant explained later this need is due, at least in part, to plans to put increasing emphasis on clearing and holding areas of South Viet Nam for pacification and reconstruction.

A stepup in what President Johnson calls this "other war" to improve the living conditions of the South Vietnamese people and develop loyalty to the Saigon government is said to be a major concern of the seven allied governments meeting in Manila.

Allied forces in South Viet Nam now total slightly more than one million men under arms, according to officials in Saigon, while the Communist armed strength is estimated at 284,000 men.

The allied force includes 705,000 South Vietnamese, 331,000 Americans, 45,000 South Koreans, 4,500 Australians, 2,000 Filipinos, 150 New Zealanders and 150 from Thailand.

The seven government chiefs ended their first day's meeting shortly after 6 p.m. (6 a.m. EDT). They had been working, starting with a public session, since 9 a.m.

Westmoreland said the ratio of men killed in battle is becoming more favorable to the allies, the number of enemy soldiers surrendering the battle has increased, the number of enemy casualties left on the battle field rather than carried off is rising, and the stream of refugees choosing government security over Viet Cong domination continues to grow.

He added that the flow of information about the enemy from the people in the countryside increases weekly.

Westmoreland warned, however, that Viet Cong assassination and terror is continuing.

He said in the last six weeks the Viet Cong had assassinated 33 government officials or civilians cooperating with the government. He said there had been 51 kidnappings and 122 other acts of terrorism.

"All of the military power which we can bring to bear can achieve only one thing: A state of security in which the people of South Viet Nam can develop their institutions of government, their natural resources and their potentials for production," Westmoreland said.

Weather Hampers U.S. Air Strikes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Small-scale fighting flared Monday in scattered sections of South Viet Nam, but the war for the most part continued in a lull. Thunderstorms of the northeast monsoon again cut heavily into U.S. air blows against North Viet Nam.

Although a general upsurge in Communist military activity and terrorism failed to develop to coincide with the opening of the Manila summit conference, a civilian bus hit a Viet Cong mine 22 miles north of Hue, killing 15 Vietnamese and injuring 20.

The Viet Cong made mortar attacks on four South Vietnamese outposts in the central highlands Sunday and two on American positions in the northern provinces today.

In one shelling, the Reds fired 30 to 40 mortar rounds against the command post of the U.S. 7th Marine Regiment about two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The Leathernecks replied with counter-mortar fire, and a 7th Fleet destroyer fired 100 rounds of five-inch shells. Marine casualties were reported light; results of the counterfire were not announced.

A unit of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade received 15 rounds of Communist mortar fire eight miles northwest of Da Nang airfield. A U.S. spokesman said the paratroopers had light casualties.

LBJ Expected To Sign All Congress Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is expected to sign into law virtually all the legislation passed in the rush to adjournment by Congress.

Much of it is for his "Great Society" program — and some is greater than he asked.

Some key programs could be signed by Johnson even before he returns to the United States Nov. 2 from his Pacific-Asian tour.

The lengthy second session of the 89th Congress ended late Saturday afternoon after two years of record spending and government involvement in new fields.

The final outpouring of legislation included a $6.1-billion elementary and secondary school aid bill for the next two years that is a whopping $1.7 billion above what Johnson asked.

The President's demonstration cities program — designed to show what an all-fronts attack on poverty can do — won late approval at $1.26 billion, less than half what he asked.

Lawmakers voted each major political party a potential $30-million kitty for the 1968 presidential election campaign. The program would permit taxpayers to divert $1 from their income tax to the campaign.

The adding machines are still clacking away trying to figure out how much Congress went over or under Johnson's recommendations in specific areas.

The two-year appropriation total of $283 billion stands as a record, with this year's $144 billion a close second to the one-year record of $147 billion set in 1942, the first full year of World War II.

After the Medicare and voting rights blockbusters of 1965, this second session of the 89th Congress seemed a step slower. And there was greater preoccupation with talking about the war in Viet Nam.

Florida Man And Daughter Found Slain

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The killer of a Florida Department of Education official and his 12-year-old daughter in their fashionable home left no clues and Sheriff William Joyce said today no motive had been found.

Killed Saturday night were Robert W. Sims, 42, director of data processing, and his daughter, Joy Lynn, 12. Each had been bound, gagged and shot once in the head. The daughter had seven stab wounds in the chest and abdomen.

Sims' wife, Helen, was bound, gagged and shot twice in the head and once in the leg. She was in "very critical" condition at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital.

All three were blindfolded and their hands tied behind their backs before being shot with what was believed to be a .38 caliber pistol.

"At this point we can find no motive," Sheriff Joyce said. "There was no sign of disorder in the house and the money and valuables were intact."

Another daughter, Norma Jeannette, 17, discovered the two bodies and her wounded mother when she returned home from football game about 11:15 p.m. Saturday. The ranch-style house is in the $25,000 class.

Sims was lying on the bed in the master bedroom and his wife and child on the floor. They had been gagged and bound with ties and socks.

A neighbor reported that she heard high-pitched screams about 10:45 p.m. but thought they came from children. Other residents of the area said they heard nothing.

Sims, a native of Meridian, Miss., was a graduate of Mississippi Southern and received his doctor's degree from FSU in 1961.

Sims went to work for the education department in 1956 on a part-time basis and joined the department full-time in 1958.

Mrs. Sims is a native of Middleton, Tenn.

Sheppard, 42, is on trial for second-degree murder, which means that his life is not at stake this time, as it was when he went on trial for first-degree murder in 1954.

Sheppard has maintained that he is innocent. In the original trial he told of being awakened by his wife's screams, of grappling with a bushy-haired intruder in the couple's home on the Lake Erie shore and being knocked unconscious.

Marilyn, 31, had been hacked to death. The sharp instrument used to kill her never was found.

Selection of a jury could take most of this week, and then the defense may renew its demand that the case be moved out of Cleveland.

Pumpkin Tidbits

Show Saturday evening. Would it be possible to leave these two exhibits intact through Saturday night? Just wondered.

Pumpkin Show visitors were either quietly resigned or completely frustrated when they were turned away from the posy exhibit in mid-afternoon on Wednesday and Friday when judges were still making their momentous decisions. Judging exhibits is a meticulous, time consuming business. Could we have mid morning judging? This would mean an earlier deadline for exhibitors. But fewer frustrated flower show visitors.

The Sheriff's deptment obligingly escorted flower show director Vangie Campbell home through the milling crowds on Saturday night. The deputies took a good bit of ribbing when they carried out the pretty mannikin that had graced the alcove which also held an old-fashioned churn. It was the winner because they carried out the pretty lady in several parts.

Pumpkin Show visitors wondered what the misty dried material was that Circleville Garden Club was selling at their place in the implement building. It was Jewels of Opar. This was featured by Park's Seeds of Greenwood S. C. As a dried material it gives a sort of baby's breath effect. Mrs. Donald Watt said it was a pretty garden annual which grew about two feet high.

The release time for entries in the Pumpkin Show Art Show was 4 p. m. Saturday.

However, show officials note that several entries have not been claimed. The same is true for prize money.

Arrangements to claim the entries and awards may be made by contacting Mrs. H. H. Shuttlesworth, 474-5809.

Shoemaker Helps Schools
Candidate for State Legislature, Pickaway and Ross Counties Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker has been complimented for his support of Ohio's efforts to expand higher education by John D. Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents.

Although Mr. Shoemaker opposed establishment of the Board of Regents, because, as he has said, it has too much power, he admits he supported many of the board's programs for the advancement of educational opportunity.

Dr. Millett wrote Rep. Shoemaker in this vein:

"Now that the regular session of the 106th General Assembly has ended, I want to express my personal and official appreciation for all the assistance you have given to the Ohio Board of Regents these last several months.

"We in the Board believe that this has been a most productive session

But 1966 did bring creation of a 12th Cabinet department, transportation; a two-year plan to raise the minimum wage of $1.60 and broaden its coverage by 8 million workers; new safety standards for automobiles; a $3.7 billion attack on pollution, and requirements for so-called fair labeling of consumer goods.

One controversial Johnson favorite, the antipoverty program, won authorization for another year at $1.75 billion — only about half what the antipoverty agency wanted.

A $3.8-billion higher education bill would help build more college buildings over the next three years.

Other key programs approved: Authorize stepped-up training for health care personnel and state-developed comprehensive health programs.

Suspend two tax incentives to increased business spending in the hope of stemming inflation.

Give federal employees a $906 million pay raise and military personnel a $357-million hike.

Let the President call up military reserves without declaring a national emergency.

Manila Police Quell Student Demonstration

MANILA (AP) — Police fired shots into the air tonight, in the vicinity of the hotel where President Johnson is staying, to break up about 2,000 students demonstrating against U.S. policies on Viet Nam.

Swinging truncheons and jabbing with rifle butts, police charged into the demonstrators shortly after they had moved up to the main entrance of the Manila Hotel. Johnson had returned to his suite there two hours earlier from the first session of the summit conference on Viet Nam.

The clash outside the entrance lasted only a few minutes but the demonstration was continued a short distance away after the students were driven off. It was then that police fired about six shots into the air to scatter them.

The noise of the demonstration could easily be heard inside the hotel lobby and the floors above.

A handful of students were knocked down by police and an American television cameraman, Tom Reynolds of CBS, was bloodied by students who clubbed him with a bamboo pole.

The students had hoped to rally 5,000 demonstrators for the protest against Johnson's Viet Nam policies but police estimated that at most 2,000 were involved.

Losses of about 1 1/2 each by Boeing and Douglas Aircraft and a drop of nearly a point by United Aircraft tended to dampen the rise. ATT and Bethlehem Steel eased. U. S. Steel was steady. Other major steelmakers edged higher.

Kennecott and Anaconda also were easy. New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad declined fractionally.

Chief Stocks Continue Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — Selective strength among blue chips widened gradually and gave the stock market a fairly good gain early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Some key issues advanced about 2 points but the general pattern among high-quality issues was irregularly higher at best.

A spurt in machine tool orders reported for September and some good reports of corporate earnings provided a cheerful background for Wall Street.

Generally higher were autos, steels, oils, rails, chemicals, and electronics. Aerospace defense issues declined. Airlines and nonferrous metals were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 285.1 with industrials up 1.6, rails up .2 and utilities up .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 47 3/4 at 792.03.

Helping to beef up the average, Standard Oil (New Jersey), General Electric and Westinghouse Electric gained about 2 each.

Also helpful in that respect were gains of about a point by General Motors and Goodyear.

An uneven performance elsewhere in the list of key stocks tended to water down convictions in the advance, even though gainers outnumbered losers by almost 2-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Losses of about 1 1/2 each by Boeing and Douglas Aircraft and a drop of nearly a point by United Aircraft tended to dampen the rise. ATT and Bethlehem Steel eased. U. S. Steel was steady. Other major steelmakers edged higher.

Kennecott and Anaconda also were easy. New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad declined fractionally.

Florida Man And Daughter Found Slain

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The killer of a Florida Department of Education official and his 12-year-old daughter in their fashionable home left no clues and Sheriff William Joyce said today no motive had been found.

Killed Saturday night were Robert W. Sims, 42, director of data processing, and his daughter, Joy Lynn. Each had been bound, gagged and shot once in the head. The daughter had seven stab wounds in the chest and abdomen.

Sims' wife, Helen, was bound, gagged and shot twice in the head and once in the leg. She was in "very critical" condition at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital.

All three were blindfolded and their hands tied behind their backs before being shot with what was believed to be a .38 caliber pistol.

"At this point we can find no motive," Sheriff Joyce said. "There was no sign of disorder in the house and the money and valuables were intact."

Another daughter, Norma Jeannette, 17, discovered the two bodies and her wounded mother when she returned home from football game about 11:15 p.m. Saturday. The ranch-style house is in the $25,000 class.

Sims was lying on the bed in the master bedroom and his wife and child on the floor. They had been gagged and bound with ties and socks.

A neighbor reported that she heard high-pitched screams about 10:45 p.m. but thought they came from children. Other residents of the area said they heard nothing.

Sims, a native of Meridian, Miss., was a graduate of Mississippi Southern and received his doctor's degree from FSU in 1961.

Sims went to work for the education department in 1956 on a part-time basis and joined the department full-time in 1958.

Mrs. Sims is a native of Middleton, Tenn.

Sheppard, 42, is on trial for second-degree murder, which means that his life is not at stake this time, as it was when he went on trial for first-degree murder in 1954.

Sheppard has maintained that he is innocent. In the original trial he told of being awakened by his wife's screams, of grappling with a bushy-haired intruder in the couple's home on the Lake Erie shore and being knocked unconscious.

Marilyn, 31, had been hacked to death. The sharp instrument used to kill her never was found.

Selection of a jury could take most of this week, and then the defense may renew its demand that the case be moved out of Cleveland.

Dr. Millett wrote Rep. Shoemaker this vein:

"Now that the regular session of the 106th General Assembly has ended, I want to express my personal and official appreciation for all the assistance you have given to the Ohio Board of Regents these last several months.

Pumpkin Tidbits

Show Saturday evening. Would it be possible to leave these two exhibits intact through Saturday night? Just wondered.

Pumpkin Show visitors were either quietly resigned or completely frustrated when they were turned away from the show exhibit in mid-afternoon on Wednesday and Friday when judges were still making their momentous decisions. Judging exhibits is a meticulous, time consuming business. Could we have mid morning judging?? This would mean an earlier deadline for exhibitors. But fewer frustrated flower show visitors.

The Sheriff's deptment obligingly escorted flower show director Vangie Campbell home through the milling crowds on Saturday night. The deputies took a good bit of ribbing when they carried out the pretty mannikin that had graced the alcove which also held an old-fashioned churn. It was the winner because they carried out the pretty lady in several parts.

Pumpkin Show visitors wondered what the misty dried material was that Circleville Garden Club was selling at their place in the implement building. It was Jewels of Oak. This was featured by Park's Seeds of Greenwood S. C. As a dried material it gives a sort of baby's breath effect. Mrs. Donald Watt said it was a pretty garden annual which grew about two feet high.

The release time for entries in the Pumpkin Show Art Show was 4 p. m. Saturday. However, show officials note that several entries have not been claimed. The same is true for prize money.

Arrangements to claim the entries and awards may be made by contacting Mrs. H. H. Shuttlesworth, 474-5809.

insofar as public higher education in Ohio is concerned. Many laws have been enacted which will do much in the years ahead to enable the public colleges and universities to expand and to improve their service to the youth of this state as well as to all our citizenry. This result would never have been achieved without your interest, encouragement and support.

"Again, I want to record my thanks for all you have done."

Mr. Shoemaker has been a member of the Education Committee of the House.

Despite his early opposition to the Board of Regents, he has been most helpful in matters concerning Ohio University at Chillicothe and in other educational fields.

We would like to add our thanks to those of Dr. Millett for his services to our citizens of the future.

But 1966 did bring creation of a 12th Cabinet department, transportation; a two-year plan to raise the minimum wage of $1.60 and broaden its coverage by 8 million workers; new safety standards for automobiles; a $3.7 billion attack on pollution, and requirements for so-called fair labeling of consumer goods.

One controversial Johnson favorite, the anti-poverty program, won authorization for another year at $1.75 billion — only about half what the anti-poverty agency wanted.

A $3.8-billion higher education bill would help build more college buildings over the next three years.

Other key programs approved:

Authorize stepped-up training for health care personnel and state-developed comprehensive health programs.

Suspend two tax incentives to increased business spending in the hope of stemming inflation.

Give federal employees a $500 million pay raise and military personnel a $357-million hike.

Let the President call up military reserves without declaring a national emergency.

Manila Police Quell Student Demonstration

MANILA (AP) — Police fired shots into the air tonight, in the vicinity of the hotel where President Johnson is staying, to break up about 2,000 students demonstrating against U.S. policies on Viet Nam.

Swinging truncheons and jabbing with rifle butts, police charged into the demonstrators shortly after they had moved up to the main entrance of the Manila Hotel. Johnson had returned to his suite there two hours earlier from the first session of the summit conference on Viet Nam.

The clash outside the entrance lasted only few minutes but the demonstration was continued a short distance away after the students were driven off. It was then that police fired about six shots into the air to scatter them.

The noise of the demonstration could easily be heard inside the hotel lobby and the floors above.

A handful of students were knocked down by police and an American television cameraman, Tom Reynolds of CBS, was bloodied by students who clubbed him with a bamboo pole.

The students had hoped to rally 5,000 demonstrators for the protest against Johnson's Viet Nam policies but police estimated that at most 2,000 were involved.

Extra Meals Boost Morale

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Patients at the University of Alabama Hospital are now served five meals a day. Physicians say the extra meals boost morale, even though they are planned so that the patient's total daily calorie intake remains the same.

Politicians are finding it more expensive to serve the public. A race for a Senate seat from a large state now can cost a candidate and his supporters more than a million dollars — with no guarantee of victory.

The skin is the largest human organ. On a big fellow, its area equals that of a 9-by-12 foot rug.

We're getting more educated. One proof is that more than 20 per cent of U.S. families now are headed by persons who have had some college training. Beatnik-looking teenagers get a lot of attention but they are a minority. Polled on what they expected in a date, teenagers stressed physical cleanliness, proper dress and a neat appearance. That surprise you?

Quotable notables: "Hating people is like burning down your own house to get rid of the rats."

—Harry Emerson Fosdick.

You're living in a fool's paradise if you think your fat child will normally shed his fat as he grows up. Unless dieting measures are taken, the odds are four to one that an obese child will become an obese adult. And the odds rise to 28 to 1 if he doesn't trim down during adolescence.

The military services are in no danger of running out of potential draftees. Every day 5,200 U.S. boys turn 18.

Prosperity note: America's middle class is getting larger. The number of U.S. families rose only 6 per cent since 1961, but the number of families earning $10,000 or more a year increased by 31 per cent.

Household Print: Burn your finger, wife dear? The best way to ease the pain is to wash the finger quickly then dunk it in ice water, or press an ice cube against it.

One reason for taking it easy: A study of 133 men who suffered heart attacks disclosed that 94 of them were "excessively aggressive, ambitious, and competitive."

History lesson: Can you name the only signer of the Declaration of Independence who became a U.S. president and also had a son who was President? He was John Adams of Massachusetts.

What Chance for Thaw?

By John Chamberlain

The Johnson Administration seems to be staking just about everything on the theory that the Russians must be with us in wanting peace in Southeast Asia. Commentators who reflect the White House point of view speak of a warmer wind blowing in U. S. - Soviet relations. Much is made of the long off-the-record interchanges between the President and Moscow's Foreign Minister Gromyko. The lure of increased trade and easier credit arrangements with eastern Europe is dangled before Soviet eyes. But is there any reality behind the propaganda moves?

The reason for pessimism about a lasting accommodation with the Soviets which would permit a lessening of terror both outside and inside the Communist world has been dramatically underscored in speeches by both of the Communist leaders, Brezhnev and Kosygin. The Brezhnev words were uninspired reiteration of a warning to the U. S. to stop "aggression." Kosygin's remarks, directed rather venomously at Red China's Mao Tse-tung for putting obstructions in the way of Russian support of the North Vietnamese, had considerably more meat. There could, in fact, be two interpretations of Kosygin's charge that Mao, in failing to cooperate with other socialist nations in helping the Vietnamese Communists, was actually "rendering a big service to the United States." The favorable interpretation, which optimists have leaped at, is that Kosygin is trying to set up a plausible excuse for moving to liquidate the Vietnamese War on whatever terms might be wangled at the conference table. The second interpretation is far more ominous, for it amounts to saying that the Russians are running a competition with Peking to see who can be the most belligerent in supporting the Vietcong to the end.

Unfortunately, the second interpretation is more in accord with the tone of Kosygin's boast to Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz that he is providing "considerable additional assistance" to the Vietcong, and that "military personnel for the armed forces of North Vietnam are being trained in the Soviet Union." It might be argued that Kosygin's belligerence amounts to nothing more than showing a strong card face up in the game of diplomatic wiggling. But the question is whether the Soviets can afford to strut before their socialist allies and then subside in a way that would enable Peking to say, "See, the Russians really had no intention of following through in their defense of Vietnamese Communism."

The likeliest probability is that the Soviets are up to nothing more unusual than the familiar effort to keep their relations with Washington compartmentalized. It may suit their purpose to cooperate with the U. S. in trying to halt the spread of nuclear power to smaller nations. And it is plainly to their advantage to inveigle western countries into granting credits that will save Moscow the trouble of supplying Hungary and Poland with needed goods. But it does not follow at all that he

Soviets want peace all across the board, from Hanoi to Rhodesia and from Havana to a newly troubled Greece.

My own theory is that Moscow has been emboldened by the seemingly well-authenticated fact that, after years of agricultural failure, it is about to get a good wheat crop. Nature seems to have been kinder than usual this year to the Soviet farm collectives. Sun and rain have apparently cooperated with the new Soviet policy of giving more personal incentives to both the farm managers and the peasants. In the old pre-1941 Europe a good harvest was always taken as a harbinger of tougher foreign policies on the part of nations with well-filled granaries. Since the Soviets have always followed a traditional imperialistic line in foreign policy, there is no reason to believe they will behave differently than their Romanoff predecessors.

So keep your fingers crossed when Washington talks about a "warmer wind" in east-west relations. It could be just so much eyewash for the November elections. The best hope for peace with Moscow is to win a thumping victory in Vietnam in spite of the modern anti-aircraft weapons which the Russians have been sending to Hanoi to knock our planes out of the skies.

FARMER ROSS had one of the finest apple orchards in the state, and come fall, regular as clockwork, the kids from the neighborhood would sneak in to purloin apples. Regularly, too, Farmer Ross would come charging angrily out of his house, waving a shotgun, and threatening the fleeing youths with everything he could think of.

After watching one of these vain pursuits, a neighbor said to Farmer Ross, "Danged if I can understand you, Bill. You're normally a calm and generous man—and you've got ten times as many apples ripening in that orchard as you can possibly use. Why don't you just let the kids have some?"

"Heck," laughed Farmer Ross. "I WANT them to have the apples. But I was a boy once myself, and if I didn't holler and chase them—they'd never come back!"

"What do you mean, we never had any excitement up at Wappinger's Falls?" protested a former native of that bustling center. "I can still remember how every Saturday night we'd get doled up in our best duds and rush down to the hotel to see who'd rented the room."

The Business World

By John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The housewife probably will find it hard to believe, but she is spending a far smaller percentage of her money on food today than in almost any period in American history.

Food prices are high. Government statistics prove it. But the net income of families is higher than ever, too, even taking into consideration the money that evaporates in the steam of inflation.

Americans spend less than 20 per cent of their disposable income on food today. A century ago we spent more than half our wages feeding ourselves. In the Soviet Union they still do.

These are percentages the food stores like to quote, of course, because most of them feel that, rather than having treated the housewife unfairly, the housewife is demanding too much of them.

Profits on retail operations are small compared to the turnover, which is very high. A store might have to sell about $25 worth of merchandise to make a 50 or 60-cent profit.

In food retailing the percentage is even smaller. Some supermarkets make less than a penny on every dollar rung up at the checkout counter.

Food retailers, in fact, have been howling about costs as long as the housewives have. Although some chains are very profitable, others are on very spongy financial footing. Who, then, is at fault for high prices?

Until the housewife decided she wasn't going to play the game anymore the complaints sounded like a chorus of Farmer in the Dell. It went like this:

The husband blames the wife, the wife blames the grocer, the grocer blames the distributor, the distributor blames the farmer, the farmer blames the government and on and on.

This was orderly complaining. This didn't make prices lower. It was ineffective. But it let off steam.

The housewife stopped playing, however. Fed up, she stepped out of line and smacked the grocer with her pocketbook. And, as we know, the grocer is incensed. Everywhere, now, food prices are challenged. No longer does order prevail.

Whether or not the housewife has applied her pressure in the proper spot is debatable. What can no longer be debated is a certain effectiveness in her campaign for lower prices. Grocers have submitted in some areas.

Supermarket competition often was not so much in the area of prices as in promotion, trading stamps and services. The housewives' campaign has returned competition to the price area.

A big question now is how long will prices remain lowered. Another is how far the pressure will spread. The grocer, despite a small return, apparently can lower some prices by becoming more efficient, eliminating promotions, cutting services.

What happens, however, when he can cut no more? Or if he finds price cuts unprofitable?

Will he demand that the food processor drop his prices too? Will the processor demand a lower price on the packages he uses? Will farm to market transportation costs be challenged? Will farm prices, themselves, feel the effect? Will the cost of farm labor be blamed?

We probably never will be able to analyze exactly the areas that react to the housewife's resistance. But she has set in motion a soul searching by everyone connected with price including President Johnson.

All we can say for certain is that it's called inflation and the housewife knows it.

Latest statistics show wives now make up 36 per cent of the U.S. labor force as against only 24 per cent in 1950. This you must admit — the little lady's doing a good job.

What are the adrenal glands? What do they do?

The adrenals are two small, yellowish, plum-size glands that lie just above each kidney. They are a part, a most important part, of the entire hormone complex of the body.

The adrenals work in conjunction with the pituitary, the thyroid, the ovaries and every other gland in the endocrine system.

Each adrenal has an inner core, the medulla, and an outer covering, the cortex. Even though these are intricately joined to each other they are totally different in their performance.

The inside, the medulla, produces epinephrine, or adrenalin. This remarkable hormone affects the blood pressure, the blood sugar, increases the pulse and the breathing rate and relaxes the muscles of the body.

Epinephrine, when released into the blood stream by the adrenals, makes a person feel like he has been running a race, while standing still. The heart begins to pound, breathing is more rapid, perspiration becomes profuse and the body becomes triggered for action.

Adrenalin, given for asthma relaxes the muscles of the bronchial tree of the lung.

The outside of the adrenal gland, the cortex, is perhaps even more important to health. It produces cortisone that affects sex development, utilization of salt and sugar and is involved in every functioning process of the body.

A remarkable communication system exists between the cortex and the pituitary gland in the brain. ACTH, the dramatic hormone used in severe allergy, hives and arthritis, is the product of this amazing combination.

Deficiency of the adrenal glands is responsible for Addison's disease. Once considered fatal, it now can be kept controlled with injections of cortisone.

What is meant by a loafer's heart?

The name "loafer's heart," sounds like a jest but really is not.

All the muscles of the body should have some tone, some tension, some activity. When muscles are not used they tend to become weaker, stringy and lose their spirit. This is called atrophy.

Atrophy of disuse can also occur in the heart, which is in reality only a powerful muscle.

In order to keep up the body including the heart, need some form of exercise. Walking, bicycling, calisthenics and prescribed vigorous exercises are the means to activate the lazy loafer's heart.

Everyone needs some exercise. Overexertion can be avoided by a well-regulated and reasonable form of muscular activity.

The name "loafer's heart", sounds like a jest but really is not.

All the muscles of the body should have some tone, some tension, some activity. When muscles are not used they tend to become weaker, stringy and lose their spirit. This is called atrophy.

Atrophy of disuse can also occur in the heart, which is in reality only a powerful muscle.

In order to keep up the body including the heart, need some form of exercise. Walking, bicycling, calisthenics and prescribed vigorous exercises are the means to activate the lazy loafer's heart.

Everyone needs some exercise. Overexertion can be avoided by a well-regulated and reasonable form of muscular activity.

WHY SO MUCH CHRONIC ILLNESS?

DR. HERMAN H. SHUTTLEWORTH
Chiropractor

Nearly every chiropractic patient comes searching and hoping for a "cure" of some "chronic" condition. We find that many have tried most everything. They get patched up, they get temporary relief, but they never seem to get well!

We find that most of these unfortunate people have been taught that if we become sick, if we are not well, or if we wish to feel better, something should be taken, swallowed, or injected into our body — if this fails, something should be cut out. Our procedure is to use what is already there, and to adjust or re-arrange it to conform to the Laws of Nature so that Innate Intelligence may express itself to the best of its ability.

Usually, these people, who have not discovered chiropractic, never get well because their spines have become so de-arranged or distorted that many nerve cables are so impinged that it is virtually impossible for the tremendous healing power of Nature to "get through" these choked nerve lines to do its job.

Frequently, after we have made the corrective spinal adjustment, a new patient will ask, "Is that all you do?" Our reply, "Yes, it is like the surgeon who sets the broken leg and lets Nature do the healing, or the body do all the healing. Have you ever stopped to think that all we do is chew and swallow our food; then the enzymes and ferments of our mouth, along with our stomachs, gall blad-

What Chance for Thaw?

By John Chamberlain

The Johnson Administration seems to be staking just about everything on the theory that the Russians must be with us in wanting peace in Southeast Asia. Commentators who reflect the White House point of view speak of a warmer wind blowing in U. S. - Soviet relations. Much is made of the long off-the-record interchanges between the President and Moscow's Foreign Minister Gromyko. The lure of increased trade and easier credit arrangements with eastern Europe is dangled before Soviet eyes. But is there any reality behind the propaganda moves?

The reason for pessimism about a lasting accommodation with the Soviets which would permit a lessening of terror both outside and inside the Communist world has been dramatically underscored in speeches by both of the Communist leaders, Brezhnev and Kossygin. The Brezhnev words were uninspired reiteration of a warning to the U. S. to stop "aggression." Kossygin's remarks, directed rather venomously at Red China's Mao Tse-tung for putting obstructions in the way of Russian support of the North Vietnamese, had considerably more meat. There could, in fact, be two interpretations of Kossygin's charge that Mao, in failing to cooperate with other socialist nations in helping the Vietnamese Communists, was actually "rendering a big service to the United States." The favorable interpretation, which optimists have leaped at, is that Kossygin is trying to set up a plausible excuse for moving to liquidate the Vietnamese War on whatever terms might be wangled at the conference table. The second interpretation is far more ominous, for it amounts to saying that the Russians are running a competition with Peking to see who can be the most belligerent in supporting the Vietcong to the end.

Unfortunately, the second interpretation is more in accord with the tone of Kossygin's boast to Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Jzef Cyrankiewicz that he is providing "considerable additional assistance" to the Vietcong, and that "military personnel for the armed forces of North Vietnam are being trained in the Soviet Union." It might be argued that Kossygin's belligerence amounts to nothing more than showing a strong card face up in the game of diplomatic wiggling. But the question is whether the Soviets can afford to strut before their socialist allies and then subside in a way that would enable Peking to say, "See, the Russians really had no intention of following through in their defense of Vietnamese Communism."

The likeliest probability is that the Soviets are up to nothing more unusual than the familiar effort to keep their relations with Washington compartmentalized. It may suit their purpose to cooperate with the U. S. in trying to halt the spread of nuclear power to smaller nations. And it is plainly to their advantage to inveigle western countries into granting credits that will save Moscow the trouble of supplying Hungary and Poland with needed goods. But it does not follow at all that he

Soviets want peace all across the board, from Hanoi to Rhodesia and from Havana to a newly troubled Greece.

My own theory is that Moscow has been emboldened by the seemingly well-authenticated fact that, after years of agricultural failure, it is about to get a good wheat crop. Nature seems to have been kinder than usual this year to the Soviet farm collectives. Sun and rain have apparently cooperated with the new Soviet policy of giving more personal incentives to both the farm managers and the peasants. In the old pre-1941 Europe a good harvest was always taken as a harbinger of tougher foreign policies on the part of nations with well-filled granaries. Since the Soviets have always followed a traditional imperialistic line in foreign policy, there is no reason to believe they will behave differently than their Romanoff predecessors.

So keep your fingers crossed when Washington talks about a "warmer wind" in east-west relations. It could be just so much eyewash for the November elections. The best hope for peace with Moscow is to win a thumping victory in Vietnam in spite of the modern anti-aircraft weapons which the Russians have been sending to Hanoi to knock our planes out of the skies.

FARMER ROSS had one of the finest apple orchards in the state, and come fall, regular as clockwork, the kids from the neighborhood would sneak in to purloin apples. Regularly, too, Farmer Ross would come charging angrily out of his house, waving a shotgun, and threatening the fleeing youths with everything he could think of.

After watching one of these vain pursuits, a neighbor said to Farmer Ross, "Danged if I can understand you, Bill. You're normally a calm and generous man—and you've got ten times as many apples ripening in that orchard as you can possibly use. Why don't you just let the kids have some?"

"Heck," laughed Farmer Ross. "I WANT them to have the apples. But I was a boy once myself, and if I didn't holler and chase them—they'd never come back!"

"What do you mean, we never had any excitement up at Wappinger's Falls?" protested a former native of that bustling center. "I can still remember how every Saturday night we'd get dolled up in our best duds and rush down to the hotel to see who'd rented the room."

Martha Raye Backs GIs In Mekong Valley Battle

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Comedienne Martha Raye, a front-line trouper for 24 years, changed her routine last week. She donned fatigues and worked for two days in an Army field dispensary, cleansing wounds, changing bandages and comforting GIs wounded in a Mekong Delta battle. The twangy-voiced brunette, who has gone from outpost to tiny outpost throughout Viet Nam to entertain American servicemen, sang, danced and ribbed the men of two Army aviation helicopter companies stationed in the Mekong Delta town of Soc Trang.

The next morning, the chopper pilots and their crews delivered Vietnamese soldiers to the paddy fields and marshlands of the delta to charge the entrenched Viet Cong. As the first helicopters settled into the landing zones, they were met by intense fire. The landing zones were in the stronghold of a Viet years, then I would say that pregnancy is the normal condition for you.

DEAR OUT: If you have been pregnant 10 times in 12

DEAR ABBY: I am glad you thought a pregnant woman is in a sense "beautiful." I agree with you. And it is because they are playing such a big part in the miracle of God's creation that they are.

Over in France during World War I, I noticed Frenchmen of all ages tipping their hats to pregnant women as they passed them on the streets. I inquired about this, and was told it was a custom to show respect. I thought this was a lovely gesture and have often wondered why we don't do it here?

DEAR W.L.S.: Maybe it's just as well. What with the new fashionable "tent" dresses, a gentleman couldn't be sure which ladies qualify for such "respect."

NFL Race Tightens; Cards Absorb First Loss

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pass rush, says safetyman Ross Fichtner of the Cleveland Browns, means everything. "My wife could beat me on a pass if she was given enough time to run all over the field."

The Browns' defensive line didn't give Don Meredith's receivers too much time to run anywhere Sunday, and Fichtner credits that rush with helping him intercept three passes as Cleveland defeated previously unbeaten Dallas 30-21.

The victory tightened the race in the National Football League's Eastern Conference, moving the Browns to within one game of first-place St. Louis and keeping Dallas a half-game out. St. Louis also lost its first game, dropping a 26-20 decision to Washington.

In other games, Green Bay trampled Atlanta 56-3, Baltimore trimmed Minnesota 20-17, Chicago defeated Los Angeles 17-10, Philadelphia bombed New York 31-3 and San Francisco edged Detroit 27-24.

Fichtner's second interception set up the Browns' second touchdown, Leroy Kelly scoring from two yards out. Mike Howell's lone interception resulted in a 21-yard touchdown pass from Frank Ryan to Paul Warfield. Lou Groza added three field goals for the Browns.

Two touchdown passes from Sonny Jurgensen to Bobby Mitchell in less than three minutes of the fourth quarter enabled Washington to stop St. Louis. Jurgensen first hit Mitchell for 15 yards, then connected for a 44-yarder. Charley Gogolak kicked four Washington field goals.

Green Bay had no trouble remaining on top of the Western Conference as Bert Starr hit for eight of 11 passes in the first half. Rookie Donny Anderson scored twice for the Packers, once on a 77-yard punt return.

Baltimore remained 1½ games behind Green Bay on Johnny Unitas' 13-yard touchdown pass to Ray Berry in the fourth quarter. That became the margin of victory when Frank Tarkenton hit Tommy Mason with a three-yard scoring toss later in the quarter.

Gale Sayers burst through the Los Angeles defense for a 93-yard touchdown run with a second-quarter kickoff, helping Chicago to its victory. The teams traded field goals later in the quarter, then played scoreless ball in the second half.

Philadelphia exploded for 24 points in the second quarter against New York, the first touchdown coming after King Hill threw a 27-yard pass to Tom Woodeshick on a fourth-down, fake punt situation. Norm Snead hit Pete Retzlaff with a 30-yard touchdown pass on the next play.

John Brodie's 21-yard touchdown toss to Monty Stickles with three seconds left vaulted San Francisco past Detroit. Karl Sweetan had put the Lions ahead 48 seconds earlier by hitting Jim Gibbons with a two-yarder.

Black Hawks Whip Detroit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
National Hockey League goalies can expect double trouble from the Chicago Black Hawks this season if Dennis Hull keeps stealing his big brother's thunder.

Dennis, younger brother of Bobby Hull, the NHL's record-breaking goal-scorer, fired his third goal in two games Sunday night, sparking the unbeaten Black Hawks to a 4-1 victory over slow-starting Detroit.

The 21-year-old left-winger who scored only one goal for Chicago last season while Bobby set an all-time record of 54 tallies, rifled a 60-foot shot past Red Wings' goalie Hank Bassen late in the first period, snapping a 1-1 tie.

The victory kept Chicago two points in front of the defending champion Montreal Canadiens,

Wright Called 'Outstanding' By Coaches

All Circleville Gridders Rated High by Tiger Staff

For the second consecutive week, diminutive Tommy Wright turned in one of the best games of all Circleville High School football players, the Tiger coaching staff reports.

After reviewing the Circleville - Wilmington game films, coaches felt Wright was outstanding on defense. The little Tiger, he weighs only 140 pounds, made nine tackles, was credited with three assists and intercepted a pass as time ran out they thwarted any possible hope Wilmington had of deadlocking Friday's game.

Head coach Paul Starr pointed out that all individual performance grade scores were exceptionally high again.

Assured of at least a tie for the South Central Ohio League title, the Tigers are faced with the job of preparing for Hillsboro.

ALTHOUGH the Indians have not won a game this year, they have been constantly improving, according to reports Starr has received.

Circleville has not won an undisputed loop crown in football since Starr came here to coach in 1962. They tied for the championship that year.

Circleville had an undefeated season in 1961.

Fresno Girl Sparks U.S. Golf Victory

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Shelley Hamlin, 17-year-old Fresno, Calif., schoolgirl, is just one of a bevy of whiz kids who are going to make their presence felt in international golf in the next few years.

They tear into a ball as if they want to smash the cover off it. They are bold and cocky. They are completely devoid of nerves.

Shelley was the fast-finishing spearhead that carried the United States to the world women's amateur golf team championship here over the weekend.

After starting with a jittery 80, she settled down to shoot 75-72-72 and mark herself as the most exciting player in the field of 57 from 19 nations the last days.

The United States, with strong assists from both Mrs. Theodore Boddie of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Davis Welts of Mt. Vernon, Wash. won the event by nine strokes with a score of 580.

Canada, led by Mrs. Marlene Streit, the Little Tiger, was second at 589, followed by defending champion France, 597; Belgium, 161; Britain-Ireland, 612, and Mexico, New Zealand, South Africa and Italy, tied at 613.

Shelley is just one of the many fine young players who showed in the tournament here.

Others included Corinne Reybroeck, the sensational 15-year-old Belgian; Marina Ragher, a pretty, 20-year-old Italian who plans to play in the United States next year; Liv Forsell, a tall, 21-year-old Swede; Judy Angel, 20, of South Africa; Gita Grant, 19, of Brazil; Marea Hickey, 21, of Australia; Seiko Sato, 22, of Japan; Ella de Larralde, 19, of Mexico and Catherine Lacoste, 21 of France.

who edged Boston 3-2 on a late goal by penalty-killer Jean Guy Talbot.

Ed Giacomini, New York's second-year goaltender, registered the season's first shutout — and his first in NHL play — as the Rangers nipped Toronto 1-0 in Sunday night's other game.

Kansas City Slams Denver To Set AFL Western Pace

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bad boy Bert Coan has been nothing but good news for the Kansas City Chiefs and Coach Hank Stram this season.

Coan is the one-time problem child halfback who has been nothing but trouble for opposing linemen around the American Football League.

He rushed for three touchdowns and caught a Pete Beathard pass for a fourth as Kansas City battered Denver 56-10 and jumped into first place in the AFL's Western Division.

The Chiefs' victory lifted them one-half game in front of San Diego, which lost at Boston 35-17. The Patriots' victory moved Boston within one-half game of New York in the East as the Jets were beaten by Oakland 24-21 in the final minute. Miami won its second straight, beating Houston 20-13.

Coan rushed for touchdowns of 35, 18 and 19 yards before grabbing Beathard's 19-yard pass for his fourth TD of the day. The 26-year-old running back gained 111 yards along the ground and moved into fourth place among the AFL's rushers. Coan's controversial back-ground includes a celebrated transfer from TCU to Kansas and a recruiting squabble that ended with Kansas stripped of its Big Eight title.

Eventually he quit college and signed with San Diego. After being dealt to Kansas City, Coan stormed out of camp in 1963. He returned but in three years he had gained just 293 yards. This season he has been a new man.

Larry Garron was the hero for the Patriots, scoring three times, two of the touchdowns on 53-yard bombs from babe Parilli.

Jim Nance, the league's leading rusher, gained 108 yards in 25 carries and Parilli picked the Chargers' defense apart for 250 yards through the air. It was San Diego's third straight winless game on its swing through the East.

Hewitt Dixon plunged into the end zone with two seconds to play as Oakland caught the Jets. The TD came on a fourth down play after New York's line had yielded only one yard in three shots.

The winning TD was set up by a 42-yard Tom Flores-Art Powell pass that came on a broken play. "It was a short pass, first down pattern," Powell explained. "But I broke it and Tom saw me."

Powell beat Dainard Paulson to the pass and brought the ball to New York's 24 with 1½ minutes left. Dixon caught a 22-yarder setting up the Jets' goal line stand that eventually surrendered the last two yards.

Three different quarterbacks guided Miami to its second straight victory. George Wilson Jr. and Rick Norton each put points on the scoreboard for the Dolphins against Houston before being injured. Dick Wood took over and marched Miami into position for two Gene Mingo field goals that wrapped it up.

Cookie Gilchrist, making his debut for Miami, carried 10 times for 32 yards and caught a 13-yard TD pass from Norton.

NFL Race Tightens; Cards Absorb First Loss

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pass rush, says safetyman Ross Fichtner of the Cleveland Browns, means everything. "My wife could beat me on a pass if she was given enough time to run all over the field."

The Browns' defensive line didn't give Don Meredith's receivers too much time to run anywhere Sunday, and Fichtner credits that rush with helping him intercept three passes as Cleveland defeated previously unbeaten Dallas 30-21.

The victory tightened the race in the National Football League's Eastern Conference, moving the Browns to within one game of first-place St. Louis and keeping Dallas a half-game out. St. Louis also lost its first game, dropping a 26-20 decision to Washington.

In other games, Green Bay trampled Atlanta 56-3, Baltimore trimmed Minnesota 20-17, Chicago defeated Los Angeles 17-10, Philadelphia bombed New York 31-3 and San Francisco edged Detroit 27-24.

Fichtner's second interception set up the Browns' second touchdown, Leroy Kelly scoring from two yards out. Mike Howell's lone interception resulted in a 21-yard touchdown pass from Frank Ryan to Paul Warfield. Lou Groza added three field goals for the Browns.

Two touchdown passes from Sonny Jurgensen to Bobby Mitchell in less than three minutes of the fourth quarter enabled Washington to stop St. Louis. Jurgensen first hit Mitchell for 15 yards, then connected for a 44-yarder. Charley Gogolak kicked four Washington field goals.

Green Bay had no trouble remaining on top of the Western Conference as Bert Starr hit for eight of 11 passes in the first half. Rookie Donny Anderson scored twice for the Packers, once on a 77-yard punt return.

Baltimore remained 1½ games behind Green Bay on Johnny Unitas' 13-yard touchdown pass to Ray Berry in the fourth quarter. That became the margin of victory when Frank Tarkenton hit Tommy Mason with a three-yard scoring toss later in the quarter.

Gale Sayers burst through the Los Angeles defense for a 93-yard touchdown run with a second-quarter kickoff, helping Chicago to its victory. The teams traded field goals later in the quarter, then played scoreless ball in the second half.

Philadelphia exploded for 24 points in the second quarter against New York, the first touchdown coming after King Hill threw a 27-yard pass to Tom Woodeshick on a fourth-down, fake punt situation. Norm Snead hit Pete Retzlaff with a 30-yard touchdown pass on the next play.

John Brodie's 21-yard touchdown toss to Monty Suckles with three seconds left vaulted San Francisco past Detroit. Karl Sweetan had put the Lions ahead 48 seconds earlier by hitting Jim Gibbons with a two-yarder.

Black Hawks Whip Detroit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
National Hockey League goalies can expect double trouble from the Chicago Black Hawks this season if Dennis Hull keeps stealing his big brother's thunder.

Dennis, younger brother of Bobby Hull, the NHL's record-breaking goal-scorer, fired his third goal in two games Sunday night, sparking the unbeaten Black Hawks to a 4-1 victory over slow-starting Detroit.

The 21-year-old left-winger who scored only one goal for Chicago last season while Bobby set an all-time record of 54 tallies, rifled a 60-foot shot past Red Wings' goalie Hank Bassen late in the first period, snapping a 1-1 tie.

The victory kept Chicago two points in front of the defending champion Montreal Canadiens,

Wright Called 'Outstanding' By Coaches

All Circleville
Gridders Rated
High by Tiger Staff

For the second consecutive week, diminutive Tommy Wright turned in one of the best games of all Circleville High School football players, the Tiger coaching staff reports.

After reviewing the Circleville-Wilmington game films, coaches felt Wright was outstanding on defense. The little Tiger, he weighs only 140 pounds, made nine tackles, was credited with three assists and intercepted a pass as time ran out they thwarted any possible hope Wilmington had of deadlocking Friday's game.

Head coach Paul Starr pointed out that all individual performance grade scores were exceptionally high again.

Assured of at least a tie for the South Central Ohio League title, the Tigers are faced with the job of preparing for Hillsboro.

ALTHOUGH the Indians have not won a game this year, they have been constantly improving, according to reports Starr has received.

Circleville has not won an undisputed loop crown in football since Starr came here to coach in 1962. They tied for the championship that year.

Circleville had an undefeated season in 1961.

Fresno Girl Sparks U.S. Golf Victory

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Shelley Hamlin, 17-year-old Fresno, Calif., schoolgirl, is just one of a bevy of whiz kids who are going to make their presence felt in international golf in the next few years.

They tear into a ball as if they want to smash the cover off it. They are bold and cocky. They are completely devoid of nerves.

Shelley was the fast-finishing spearhead that carried the United States to the world women's amateur golf team championship here over the weekend.

After starting with a jittery 80, she settled down to shoot 75-72-72 and mark herself as the most exciting player in the field of 57 from 19 nations the last days.

The United States, with strong assists from both Mrs. Theodore Boddie of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Davis Welts of Mt. Vernon, Wash. won the event by nine strokes with a score of 580.

Canada, led by Mrs. Marlene Streit, the Little Tiger, was second at 589, followed by defending champion France, 597; Belgium, 161; Britain-Ireland, 612; and Mexico, New Zealand, South Africa and Italy, tied at 613.

Shelley is just one of the many fine young players who showed in the tournament here.

Others included Corinne Reybroeck, the sensational 15-year-old Belgian; Marina Ragher, a pretty, 20-year-old Italian who plans to play in the United States next year; Liv Forsell, a tall, 21-year-old Swede; Judy Angel, 20, of South Africa; Gita Grant, 19, of Brazil; Marea Hickey, 21, of Australia; Seiko Sato 22, of Japan; Ella de Laralde, 19, of Mexico and Catherine Lacoste, 21 of France.

who edged Boston 3-2 on a late goal by penalty-kicker Jean Guy Talbot.

Ed Giacomini, New York's second-year goaltender, registered the season's first shutout — and his first in NHL play — as the Rangers nipped Toronto 1-0 in Sunday night's other game.

Kansas City Slams Denver To Set AFL Western Pace

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bad boy Bert Coan has been nothing but good news for the Kansas City Chiefs and Coach Hank Stram this season.

Coan is the one-time problem child halfback who has been nothing but trouble for opposing linemen around the American Football League.

He rushed for three touchdowns and caught a Pete Beathard pass for a fourth as Kansas City battered Denver 56-10 and jumped into first place in the AFL's Western Division.

The Chiefs' victory lifted them one-half game in front of San Diego, which lost at Boston 35-17. The Patriots' victory moved Boston within one-half game of New York in the East as the Jets were beaten by Oakland 24-21 in the final minute. Miami won its second straight, beating Houston 20-13.

Coan rushed for touchdowns of 35, 18 and 19 yards before grabbing Beathard's 19-yard pass for his fourth TD of the day. The 26-year-old running back gained 111 yards along the ground and moved into fourth place among the AFL's rushers.

Coan's controversial background includes a celebrated transfer from TCU to Kansas and a recruiting squabble that ended with Kansas stripped of its Big Eight title.

Eventually he quit college and signed with San Diego. After being dealt to Kansas City, Coan stormed out of camp in 1963. He returned but in three years he had gained just 293 yards. This season he has been a new man.

Larry Garron was the hero for the Patriots, scoring three times, two of the touchdowns on 33-yard bombs from babe Parilli.

Jim Nance, the league's leading rusher, gained 108 yards in 25 carries and Parilli picked the Chargers' defense apart for 250 yards through the air. It was San Diego's third straight winless game on its swing through the East.

Hewitt Dixon plunged into the end zone with two seconds to play as Oakland caught the Jets. The TD came on a fourth down play after New York's line had yielded only one yard in three shots.

The winning TD was set up by a 42-yard Tom Flores-Art Powell pass that came on a broken play. "It was a short pass, first down pattern," Powell explained. "But I broke it and Tom saw me."

Powell beat Dainard Paulson to the pass and brought the ball to New York's 24 with 1½ minutes left. Dixon caught a 22-yard setting up the Jets' goal line stand that eventually surrendered the last two yards.

Three different quarterbacks guided Miami to its second straight victory. George Wilson Jr. and Rick Norton each put points on the scoreboard for the Dolphins against Houston before being injured. Dick Wood took over and marched Miami into position for two Gene Mingo field goals that wrapped it up.

Cookie Gilchrist, making his debut for Miami, carried 10 times for 32 yards and caught a 13-yard TD pass from Norton.

Pass Thief Star of Browns' Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—The National Football League's chief pass thief spoke up: "The good rush helped us," said Cleveland Browns' safety-man Ross Fichtner, who leads the league with seven interceptions. "This is the best over-all defensive team we've had since I've been here."

Fichtner grabbed three of the four steals off Dallas Cowboys' quarterback Don Meredith Sunday in a 30-21 victory before a record home crowd of 84,721. It put the Browns back into the Eastern Division race.

The Cowboys went into the game as the league's best passing team, and moved 257 yards in the air, but the interceptions gave the Browns too many chances.

Two of the steals, one by Fichtner and another by Mike Howell, led to third quarter touchdowns when the Browns broke it open with 17 points.

Dallas came back with two touchdowns in the last 6½ minutes but the issue was no longer in doubt.

Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry agreed with Fichtner on the rush, strongest in the second half.

"That was the strongest pressure I've ever seen a Browns' line play," Landry said, "especially tackles Jim Kanicki and Walter Johnson. They came to play. So did we, but . . ."

"We dropped three or four passes that we had right in our hands," Landry continued, "and they intercepted a couple of those. That was the ball game."

Cleveland's strategy was simple—get to Meredith and keep Bob Hayes from going deep for the bomb.

"You don't bomb Cleveland," Hayes said. "The Browns played for the deep ball all day. They just let us have the short ones." Hayes' longest pass reception was 21 yards.

The Browns had a slim 13-7 lead at halftime on Frank Ryan's 15-yard pass to Milt Morin and Lou Groza's 29-yard field goal, the first of three for the day. He had missed six straight. Meredith scored on a three-yard roll out after a fake field goal attempt put the Cowboys in position.

Dallas was driving in the third period and faced a fourth-and-one situation on the Browns 35. Dan Reeves tried the middle. He didn't make it. Then the roof fell in.

Groza booted a 47-yarder for a 16-7 lead and Fichtner grabbed his second interception on the next series. Leroy Kelly punched it over from the two-yard line on the ninth ground play. Howell picked off the next one and Frank Ryan threw a 21 yard strike to Paul Warfield under the goal posts. That made it 30-7 going into the fourth quarter.

The Cowboys came back on 80 and 70-yard drives, with Don Perkins going one yard for a touchdown and Meredith flipping one yard to Frank Clarke with 38 seconds left.

The victory was the seventh straight for Cleveland over the Cowboys, who have never won a game at Municipal Stadium. Dallas and St. Louis, beaten 28-20 Sunday in Washington, now have one loss each while the Browns have two.

Ortiz Still Title Holder, WBA Insists

MEICO CITY (AP) — Sugar Ramos may be the world's lightweight champion in Mexico, but Carlos Ortiz of New York still is the 135-pound titleholder as far as the World Boxing Association is concerned.

That's what Robert Evans, president of the WBA, said in Louisville, Ky., Sunday night in the wake of the controversial decision here Saturday night by which Ramos was declared the champion when Ortiz refused to re-enter the ring after the fight had been stopped in the fifth.

Referee Billy Conn, the former world light-heavyweight champ from Pittsburgh, Pa., had stopped the fight with Ramos bleeding profusely from a cut over his left eye. He declared Ortiz the winner and still champion by a technical knockout.

Ortiz went to his dressing room and refused to return when Ramon Velasquez, secretary of the World Boxing Council, ruled that the fight should continue since Ramos was able to go on. After a 10-minute time limit Velasquez declared Ramos the world champion.

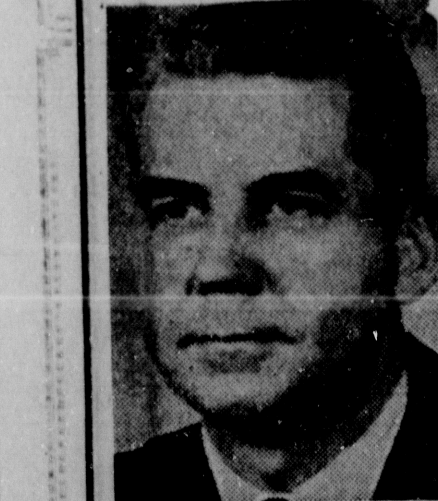

Conn's decision started a wild demonstration, which took on the proportions of a riot before Velasquez's ruling giving the title to Ramos, a Cuban who now lives in Mexico City.

Ortiz' next fight is in New York Nov. 28 against Flash Elorde of the Philippines and, Daly said, he will climb into the ring at Madison Square Garden as the world champion.

Summit Talks Open in Manila

South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky told the conference that his Vietnamese government "will very soon offer to all insurgents inside the country an honorable way of giving up their insurgency." Ky did not give details of what apparently will be a new amnesty program geared to the developing allied peace offensive.

He said South Vietnamese who "choose the Communist way of life" will be allowed to go North Viet Nam.

The seven allies in Viet Nam met amid cautiously rising hopes for a Communist move toward peace and somber warnings of expanded war if peace fails to develop.

Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos, chosen chairman in the opening minutes of the meeting, keyed the two-day conference to this double-edged theme in his opening speech.

"Asian peoples have had a surfeit of violence and war," Marcos said. "Their deepest longing is for stability and security. But the peace we want is not the peace of death or the peace of betrayal."

"We want to escalate the peace of the world," Marcos declared at another point. "We must escalate the peace for the alternative is escalation in the opposite direction — toward total war."

The public opening session was held in the legislative chamber of the Philippine House of Representatives. President Johnson, trying to avoid the appearance of a dominant role in the conference, did not speak.

After the opening session, the seven chiefs of governments allied against the Communists in Viet Nam motored to Marcos' Malacanang Palace to meet well into the afternoon behind closed doors.

The rising hope that the conference might encourage movement toward ending the Viet Nam war sprang from reports reaching Manila that European Communist countries alienated from Red China may be about ready to try to get North Viet Nam to soften its attitude toward negotiations.

President Johnson's advisers were deeply interested in reports from New York that Hungarian officials see possibility of a settlement based on reinstituting the 17th Parallel as a firm dividing line between North and South Viet Nam. North Vietnamese troops and supplies have moved around or across that line into the fighting in the South.

How Weather Looks Today

Fair skies and seasonable temperatures were expected today. Tonight, under clear skies, temperatures were likely to drop down to near the 30-degree mark.

Producer Recalls Fight To Save Famed Theater

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — On the night that the revenues padlocked the famed Pasadena Playhouse for nonpayment of taxes, executive producer Albert McCleery stood outside the theater with actors Victor Jory and Leon Ames.

They watched as the playhouse students staged on impromptu entertainment in the street to raise money for their moribund alma mater. A former student, Chris Connelly of "Peyton Place," sweetened the kitty with $200, and the young performers collected $1,300 from other onlookers.

"I looked at those kids, playing their hearts out where all theater began — in the gutter," McCleery recalls. "That's when I told myself: We're going to make it."

On that bleak night in August, the outlook was dismal. Armed Internal Revenue officers had swept into the Playhouse and closed it because of $30,000 in tax arrears. The theater, with a 50-year history and more prominent alumni in movies than any other drama school, seemed unable to extricate itself.

But Pasadena and Hollywood rallied behind it. A local telephone raised $7,000. A star-filled benefit produced $11,000. Pasadena of all walks of life contributed money and supplies. A campaign by the Star-News and Independent brought donations of $21,500.

"Without the two newspapers we wouldn't be open today," says McCleery.

The Playhouse is doing fine business with "Captain Brassbound's Conversion," the George Bernard Shaw play starring Celeste Holm. Last weekend a second, bandbox theater began a run of "Stop the World — I Want to Get Off." Community support continues to grow.

Although he is pleased with progress thus far, McCleery won't be satisfied until he has six theaters in simultaneous operation at the Playhouse and two high-rise buildings for 700 students — present enrollment: 102.

Albert McCleery may be just the man to achieve such a goal. A former screenwriter and wartime paratrooper, he achieved the impossible by producing a first-class, one-hour drama every weekday for NBC's "Matinee Theater." After 661 shows, he continued in television as a producer.

Consolidating Gains Is Big Viet Problem

BONG SON, South Viet Nam (AP) — By military standards, the job the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division, Airmobile, has done in Viet Nam must be ruled a success. The division has run five operations and reports a body count of more than 6,500 North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong guerrillas.

Yet the division's repeated victories raise questions. There has not been enough of the follow through that would fall naturally to forces of the Saigon government — Vietnamese troops.

Brig. Gen. William A. Becker is the division's assistant commander, in charge of operations. When he is asked if there isn't something wrong when the division has had to fight in the same area five times, he says:

"Each time we've been in here we've done the enemy considerable damage. Our main effort must still be to oppose the (enemy) main force."

But he indicates the job of holding and securing should be given to less mobile units of the allied forces.

"Once we have enough combined, free world strength to stay in the area it will be good," he says.

The division presses a civic action program, giving villagers medical aid and other assistance. "But when we are needed some place else that's where we go," Becker says.

This pinpoints one of the problems of this war, which is often described as actually two wars — one military and one political, the latter an effort to safeguard people and to encourage them to be loyal to Saigon.

Most of this month the 1st Cavalry has been engaged in Operation Irving, with its helicopter-borne forces swooping in and scouring section after section of the coastal delta and foothills near Bong Son, 290 miles northeast of Saigon.

The surprise of this operation is that prisoners outnumber enemy dead. Totals announced a few days ago were 632 killed, 630 captured, 2,986 detained for questioning.

Over-all American casualties have been light.

Candidate Loses Voting Machine

BOSTON (AP) — The City Election Department recently took back the voting machine State Rep. Louis Buttiglieri, D-Boston, had borrowed a few weeks ago.

Buttiglieri was defeated in the party primary and officials said he was using the machine to teach constituents how to write in his name for the general election.

Escapee Is Killed Hitching Train Ride

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies said a state prison farm escapee may have lost his life trying to hitch a ride on a train passing near the farm at Grafton.

The body of the escapee, Terry Reed Brown, 19, Canton, was found Sunday on the New York Central System tracks near Columbus Station. Brown, who was under sentence for auto theft, had fled the prison farm Saturday. Deputies said he may have fallen from a rail car or been caught under the wheels while trying to board a passing train.

'Paper Doll' Party May Help Budget

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — It was a dream ball for husbands — the kind were women who usually wear $1,000 gowns choose paper sacks instead.

The occasion was a paper dress ball tossed Saturday night to enrich the coffers of the Wadsworth Atheneum Museum here.

It was more than that. It was a nationally important test to determine whether nonwoven paper wrapped around a pretty package doing the frug, the swim, or the monkey could long endure. If so, wives could dress more cheaply.

Some 150 women showed up in paper dresses they created themselves or which were especially painted for them by well known fabric designers and photo artists.

Model Peggy Moffitt showed up more than any other woman. She wore a clear vinyl top with nothing to stop the view but poker-sized paper dots here and there, and teeny, weeny red bikini panties. Her barely there costume was designed by her boss, Rudi Gernreich, the Californian who created the topless bathing suit.

Some husbands caught up in the spirit of the evening wore paper vests, ties, and cummerbunds. Other men wielded scissors, threatening to whittle away at the ephemeral female fashions.

Beefs Postpone Mock Election At High School

NORTH VERNON, Ind. (AP) — A mock election by North Vernon High school pupils has been postponed because local politicians feared the results would influence adults.

Both Democrats and Republicans have objected to the mock balloting which has been held prior to the general election since 1956, school officials said.

In past years, the youngsters predicted upset victories by "electing" Sens. Vance Hartke and Birch Bayh and former Gov. Matthew Welsh, all Democrats. All were considered upsets.

The youngsters this year won't vote until Nov. 8, the same day as the general election.

Summit Talks Open in Manila

South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky told the conference that his Vietnamese government "will very soon offer to all insurgents inside the country an honorable way of giving up their insurgency." Ky did not give details of what apparently will be a new amnesty program geared to the developing allied peace offensive.

He said South Vietnamese who "choose the Communist way of life" will be allowed to go North Viet Nam.

The seven allies in Viet Nam met amid cautiously rising hopes for a Communist move toward peace and somber warnings of expanded war if peace fails to develop.

Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos, chosen chairman in the opening minutes of the meeting, keyed the two-day conference to this double-edged theme in his opening speech.

"Asian peoples have had a surfeit of violence and war," Marcos said. "Their deepest longing is for stability and security. But the peace we want is not the peace of death or the peace of betrayal."

"We want to escalate the peace of the world," Marcos declared at another point. "We must escalate the peace for the alternative is escalation in the opposite direction — toward total war."

The public opening session was held in the legislative chamber of the Philippine House of Representatives. President Johnson, trying to avoid the appearance of a dominant role in the conference, did not speak.

After the opening session, the seven chiefs of governments allied against the Communists in Viet Nam motored to Marcos' Malacanang Palace to meet well into the afternoon behind closed doors.

The rising hope that the conference might encourage movement toward ending the Viet Nam war sprang from reports reaching Manila that European Communist countries alienated from Red China may be about ready to try to get North Viet Nam to soften its attitude toward negotiations.

President Johnson's advisers were deeply interested in reports from New York that Hungarian officials see possibility of a settlement based on reestablishing the 17th Parallel as a firm dividing line between North and South Viet Nam. North Vietnamese troops and supplies have moved around or across that line into the fighting in the South.

Fair skies and seasonable temperatures were expected today. Tonight, under clear skies, temperatures were likely to drop down to near the 30-degree mark.

Producer Recalls Fight To Save Famed Theater

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — On the night that the revenues padlocked the famed Pasadena Playhouse for nonpayment of taxes, executive producer Albert McCleery stood outside the theater with actors Victor Jory and Leon Ames.

They watched as the playhouse students staged on impromptu entertainment in the street to raise money for their moribund alma mater. A former student, Chris Connelly of "Peyton Place," sweetened the kitty with $200, and the young performers collected $1,300 from other onlookers.

"I looked at those kids, playing their hearts out where all theater began — in the gutter," McCleery recalls. "That's when I told myself: We're going to make it."
